REMEMBERING
Cliff Robinson
OUR FRIEND

We lost an important member of our community last year. A dedicated and involved co-chair of the MAMH Community Board of Advisors, Cliff was a guiding light in mental health care across the Commonwealth. He was a lifelong advocate, an active member of the Cambridge community, a lover of opera, and a connoisseur of food and wine. He will be deeply missed by all of us.

Special thanks to members of the MAMH Board committees, including the Executive Committee, Audit and Finance Committee, and Friend and Leader Planning Committee for their work and dedication this year to ensure the success of MAMH.

FROM MAMH LEADERSHIP

Ensuring mental health and well being with collective action

As we prepare the MAMH Annual Report for 2024, we are grateful for the opportunity to reflect on the impact of our work. At MAMH, we are shoulder to shoulder with our Board, partners, funders, donors, and supporters joined in a shared purpose to make change for people. Together we work tirelessly, equipped with knowledge and inspired by the people we represent to advocate for beneficial policies and secure program investments that support people at risk for and living with mental health conditions.

Collective action rooted in reliable knowledge and sound solutions advances useful change that serves our constituents. MAMH gathers, analyzes, generates, and then disseminates the knowledge upon which we and our partners rely to illuminate challenges facing our constituents who are children, youth, adults, and older adults from all cultural, racial, and economic communities in the Commonwealth. We conduct policy studies, frame evidence-based solutions, and test innovation in the service of systemic reforms that will protect and promote mental health and well being for individuals, their families, and their communities. We are grateful to our partners for the collaboration that is key to affecting change and driving impact to end disparities in opportunities and access.

Groundbreaking reforms achieved in recent years require careful cultivation and implementation to realize full benefits for Massachusetts residents. MAMH and our partners worked in 2024, and will work in the years ahead, to secure the full promise of groundbreaking system reforms implemented via executive and legislative actions of the last decade. Implementation is not yet complete and will be achieved with persistent effort to remove regulatory and financial barriers to fully integrated operations of the envisioned care system. We are grateful to public policymakers and system leaders for their commitment to completing the transformation envisioned for care systems.

When the precincts of human need do not align with the silos of bureaucracy, people in need must rely on reforms that integrate care at the service delivery level. For this reason, MAMH collaborates with bureaucracies in health care, economic development, social welfare, public education, and criminal legal systems. Robust partnerships across multiple sectors enable progress. Together we will achieve on behalf of our constituents an equitable and accessible system that addresses promotion and prevention, assures timely intervention and treatment, and supports recovery for all people across the lifespan. We are grateful to the providers and organizations on the front lines who integrate their efforts to better serve people with complex needs.

At MAMH we know our past, understand the present, and analyze emerging knowledge to inform our future. In 2025, MAMH will come together with Board and Staff to engage stakeholders, constituents, partners, funders, and community leaders to develop a new Strategic Plan. The plan will frame our vision, mission, and goals, and detail the strategies and tactics we will employ to continue our efforts end disparities in rights, conditions, and systems. In the words of the Ancient Greek Philosopher Heraclitus, the only constant in life is change. Every day we – Educate – Mobilize – Advocate – for change.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SYSTEM REFORM

2024 marked the second full year of implementation of the Commonwealth's Roadmap for Behavioral Health Reform, including the launch of the Behavioral Health Help Line (Help Line), Community Behavioral Health Centers (CBHCs), and Behavioral Health Urgent Care Providers. MAMH actively partners with state agencies and community stakeholders to help ensure its efficient and effective implementation.

MAMH serves as an active member of the Behavioral Health Help Line Advisory Council, sharing recommendations and guidance to inform the continuous improvement process for the Help Line, which handled over 32,000 calls from January through September 2024. Themes from meetings in the past year included cultural responsiveness, caller safety, referrals and follow-ups, and marketing.

With the expansion of mental health and substance use urgent care services at both CBHCs and the Behavioral Health Urgent Care Providers, residents of the Commonwealth are now, more than ever before, able to access same-day or next-day care and urgent appointments. In addition to urgent care, CBHCs also offer a comprehensive array of services including individual and group therapy, mobile crisis intervention, community crisis stabilization, and more. There are 31 CBHC locations and 65 urgent care sites across the state offering extended hours on weekdays and weekends.

Implementation of the Roadmap began in FY2023, and much has been achieved since then, but like any major system reform effort there is a need for ongoing monitoring for accountability and continuous quality improvement. MAMH submitted a report on the state of Crisis Services in the Commonwealth with our co-author the Technical Assistance Collaborative (TAC) to the Community Policing and Behavioral Health Advisory Council in June of 2023. The Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Foundation, with its co-author Manatt, issued a Roadmap for Behavioral Health Reform: Overview and Implementation Update in August of 2024. Both reports contain significant recommendations for capitalizing on early Roadmap implementation efforts, and MAMH works to advance implementation referencing the findings of these reports, testing with our experience and that of our partners, in shaping our public policy and advocacy agenda.

URGENT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH NEEDS may be indicated by changes in behavior of thinking, role dysfunction, emerging intent of self-injury, or threats to others, but do not include immediate risk of harm to self or others.

ADULT EMERGENCY ROOM DIVERSION INITIATIVE

MAMH and its partners secured a $3.75M increase in FY25 funding to support the Department of Mental Health Adult Emergency Department (ED) Diversion Initiative, which seeks to alleviate the ongoing challenges associated with ED boarding by swiftly transitioning people with mental health conditions currently boarding in EDs to community-based treatment and by preventing potential ED visits in the first place. The initiative demonstrates a commitment toward community-based mental health support and the reduction of systemic pressures on EDs, benefiting both individuals in crisis and the healthcare system at large.

The program has a proven track record of reaching people and is cost-effective. In FY25, the budget allows for funding to existing programs to be annualized and for five new programs to be opened across the state.

PARITY

Chapter 177 of the Acts of 2022 included a range of provisions to enhance enforcement of parity provisions designed to ensure that mental health insurance coverage is comparable to medical care insurance coverage. It is important at this stage to monitor implementation of these reforms, as progress has been uneven. For that reason, MAMH is pleased with a requirement included in the FY25 budget that the Division of Insurance (DOI) must submit a report to the Legislature, no later than January 8, 2025, outlining actions taken to comply with the mental health parity provisions established in Chapter 177. The language explicitly requires that the DOI report an analysis of parity law compliance progress, including: evaluations and resolutions of consumer complaints alleging a carrier's non-compliance with state and federal laws, and behavioral health parity compliance market conduct examinations (see more at right).

Market conduct examinations are an important tool used by states to assess compliance of health plans and insurers with the state and federal parity laws and to investigate specific parity violations.

MAMH and its partners were successful in maintaining behavioral health representation on the Health Policy Commission (HPC) board. A proposal had been put forward to reorganize the HPC board, including eliminating the requirement that the board include a person with expertise in behavioral health, substance use, and mental health services. This would have been detrimental to advancing the Commonwealth's behavioral health system reform efforts, and ensuring that the needs of people living with behavioral health conditions and their families were represented on this governing body. Fortunately, the Legislature passed An Act enhancing the market review process just days before the close of the 2023-2024 legislative session. With passage of this new law, the behavioral health representative will remain on the HPC board and will be appointed moving forward by the Attorney General.

WORKFORCE INVESTMENT

Chapter 177 of the Acts of 2022 established the state's Behavioral Health Advisory Commission, which made recommendations on disbursement of funds in the Behavioral Health Trust Fund.

MAMH President and CEO Danna Mauch joined other Commission members in examining strategies and making recommendations to ensure the Fund is used as intended to address barriers to the delivery of an "equitable, culturally competent, affordable and clinically appropriate continuum of behavioral health care and services." Most of the Commission's recommendations for how to spend the $192M in the Fund concerned strengthening the behavioral health workforce, including:

- $100M in investments in loan forgiveness in exchange for a four-year service commitment,
- $25M for a scholarship program, which prioritizes the recruitment of a culturally and linguistically diverse workforce,
- $20M in support for clinical supervision of students pursuing degrees in behavioral health,
- $500,000 in funding for a comprehensive analysis of rates paid for behavioral health services, and
- $500,000 in funding for a study of licensure and certification processes for the behavioral health workforce, which also includes a demographic analysis of the current workforce.

Recommendations also include scholarships and stipends to support unpaid clinical hours required for completing educational requirements or obtaining certification or licensure. These investments are particularly important for advancing health equity by supporting students of color and students who speak a language other than English.

A strong, stable and culturally responsive workforce is foundational to an effective behavioral health system.

MAMH supported creation of a new Behavioral Health Workforce Center within the Health Policy Commission. The Center will develop a plan to recruit, retain, and develop a diverse, experienced behavioral health workforce that can provide linguistically and culturally tailored care across the Commonwealth, prioritizing rural and underserved communities. MAMH recently was invited to serve on a Behavioral Health Workforce Center Advisory Group to help guide the Center.

MAMH is pleased to report success in its efforts to secure $5 million in loan forgiveness dollars in the Fiscal Year 2024 Close-Out Supplemental budget. These dollars are targeted to help approximately 100 clinical behavioral health professionals and case managers in DMH-operated programs in exchange for a four-year service commitment at designated DMH sites. Funding will prioritize staff of color and staff who speak a language other than English.

Behavioral health workforce shortages have contributed to reduced access to timely, appropriate, culturally competent outpatient care.

Barriers to community-based care have increased avoidable, and costly, ED visits.

Simultaneously, inpatient and post-acute/long-term care staffing shortages have reduced the number of available beds for behavioral health treatment.

Strengthening and diversifying the behavioral health workforce is a critical strategy for improving equitable access to behavioral health for all MA residents.

SAFE, AFFORDABLE HOUSING

Massachusetts urgently needs to provide prompt and effective housing options to individuals with disabling mental health conditions who are experiencing chronic homelessness and housing instability. Permanent housing is critical to both engaging in effective treatment and achieving and maintaining recovery. Significant investments were made in safe and affordable housing programs in 2024.

The Department of Mental Health's (DMH) Rental Subsidy Program (RSP) is a rental voucher program designed to help those living with severe and disabling mental health conditions who are experiencing homelessness and are DMH clients. MAMH led advocacy resulting in $4.3M in additional funding for the DMH RSP in FY25, the largest increase in funding for the program in recent history.

Increased funding for the DMH Rental Subsidy Program means that 265 people with mental health conditions now have safe, secure housing to support their recovery.

On August 6, 2024, Governor Maura Healey signed into law the Affordable Homes Act (the Act) to address the state's housing challenges. As the most expansive housing bond bill ever filed in Massachusetts, the Act both designates funding for housing programs and includes policy provisions to promote housing production and access.

Among its many provisions, the Act creates a Supportive Housing Pool Fund (the Fund) to support the production of permanent supportive housing, a critical component in addressing the complex needs of people with mental health conditions. By providing stable, affordable housing combined with access to supportive services like counseling, case management, and health care, this model creates a foundation for individuals to focus on their overall health and wellbeing.

The Act (and the inclusion of the Fund) represents the collaborative efforts of many people including individuals with lived experience and their families, advocates – such as the Supportive Housing Pipeline Coalition and its more than 80 cross-sector partners – and political leaders. The bill's strength comes from the diversity of housing issues it seeks to address and the incorporation of ideas of people working on these issues year after year. The changes this bill will bring will be felt for years to come.

CRIMINAL LEGAL SYSTEM REFORM

People with mental health conditions are significantly overrepresented in every aspect of the criminal legal system. MAMH aims to ensure that Massachusetts develops innovative services that protect people from entry into the criminal legal system and actively divert individuals from arrest, adjudication, and incarceration wherever possible. If diversion fails, MAMH advocates that people in the criminal legal system receive the treatment they want and need, that services are provided in a way that is fair and respectful, and that support is available to ensure successful re-entry into the community. In 2024, MAMH sought reforms at Bridgewater State Hospital, improved services under Section 35 involuntary civil commitment for substance use treatment, and advocated for changes to the process by which people are evaluated for competency to stand trial to increase the opportunity to conduct those evaluations in the community.

SECTION 35

Massachusetts is one of more than 30 states that allow civil commitment of an individual who has an alcohol or substance use condition and poses a risk of serious harm to themselves or another person (known in Massachusetts as Section 35) but is the only state that allows commitment to a prison or jail, rather than a therapeutic environment. On December 24, 2024, Governor Healey signed a substance use omnibus bill that expands access to therapeutic, community-based substance use treatment services; among the bill's reforms is a provision to shift, over the next two years, Section 35 commitments for men out of the Department of Correction's Massachusetts Alcohol and Substance Abuse Center facility in Plymouth and into community-based programs. This is a key step in MAMH's efforts to ensure that all people subject to Section 35 court orders receive services in non-carceral, health care facilities. Equally important, MAMH continues to support safe consumption sites, low-threshold housing, and expansion of voluntary substance use treatment services that provide person-centered care and use peer supports.

BRIDGEWATER STATE HOSPITAL

Bridgewater State Hospital (BSH) serves men with serious psychiatric conditions who have pending criminal charges or convictions, or who have been found to lack criminal responsibility. Massachusetts stands as the only state with its secure forensic psychiatric hospital run by a state Department of Correction (DOC), rather than the state department of mental health. MAMH has persistently advocated for an end to this practice. In 2024, MAMH accelerated work with our advocacy partners on legislation to transfer the control of BSH from the DOC to the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health. Together we advanced the bill to the Ways and Means Committee before the legislative session expired. The legislation will be refiled in the upcoming session. We also advocated with the Administration to secure no less than $1M for the Department of Capital Asset Management's study on feasible options to serve patients in a more therapeutic environment than BSH.

CST

Forensic evaluations of criminal defendants' competency to stand trial (CST) are increasing across the state. These cases put an additional strain on the mental health system as forensic patients fill continuing care psychiatric beds, contributing to the problems of emergency department boarding. To address this crisis, MAMH continued its advocacy in support of legislation drafted and filed in 2023. The bill would enable individuals to receive competency evaluations and criminal determinations in community-based settings, such as court clinics, by requiring DMH to establish new capacity to conduct the evaluations in such settings. Currently, many find themselves in DMH-operated continuing care facilities to receive their determinations, despite not requiring inpatient care. This legislation will be refiled in the upcoming legislative session.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY RESTORATION CENTER

The Middlesex County Restoration Center is on track to open its doors to the public in 2026. The Center is the culmination of years of research, planning, and advocacy by the Middlesex County Restoration Commission, co-chaired by Middlesex County Sheriff Peter Koutoujian and MAMH's Danna Mauch. It will offer a reception, evaluation, and admission to respite or crisis stabilization beds, and it will serve as a critical alternative to hospitalization, arrest, and incarceration for people experiencing mental health or substance use crisis in New England's most populous county. In 2024, the state selected Vinfen as the vendor to develop and operate the Center. Vinfen is now working with the Commission, state and local officials to complete implementation planning steps to operationalize the Center.

CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH

MAMH is as an executive member of the Children's Mental Health Campaign (CMHC), a statewide network advocating for policy, systems, and practice solutions to ensure all children in Massachusetts have access to resources to prevent, diagnose, and treat mental health conditions in a timely, effective, and compassionate way.

Significant accomplishments, supported and advocated for by MAMH and its CMHC partners in the FY25 budget, include:

- $500K for the UMass BIRCh Project for the operation of the School-Based Behavioral Health Technical Assistance Center to aid school administrators, teachers, and staff in the implementation of school-based supports and services.
- $5M for the development of a statewide birth-through-higher-education framework for mental and behavioral health.
- $3.875M for the Massachusetts Child Psychiatry Access Project (MCPAP), including $675K for MCPAP for Moms to address the mental health and substance use condition concerns of pregnant and postpartum people.
- $3.3M for Health Law Advocates' Mental Health Access Program for Kids.

The CMHC is also working to identify need areas and barriers to care for children and youth with co-occurring autism spectrum disorder and mental health concerns. Current work by the policy accelerator workgroup includes refining a set of actionable, high-impact solutions to help children and youth access the range of services and supports they need to thrive based on input received from state policy makers, providers, families, advocates, and other stakeholders.

OLDER ADULT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

MAMH actively promotes behavioral health and wellness across the lifespan. With generous support from the Point32Health Foundation, MAMH leads the Older Adult Behavioral Health Network (OABHN) to increase the visibility of older adult behavioral health through advocacy, workforce development, and public education. During the past year, OABHN has:

- Hosted an annual conference for the older adult and behavioral health workforce. This year's conference focused on cultivating leaders to influence policy, programs, and public understanding of the mental health needs of older adults;
- Brought together aging and disability advocates to raise awareness about the needs of the diverse population of older adults across the Commonwealth; and
- Co-facilitated How Much is Too Much? with AARP Massachusetts and the MA Organization for Addiction Recovery (MOAR), a public education series for older adults, families, and caregivers.

Classifying over-finding and keeping as “hoarding” can be detrimental to those seeking and offering help. People aren't helped by labels, they are helped by education, support, and a constructive, compassionate approach to managing their clutter regardless of the causes.

HOARDING RESOURCE NETWORK

Preventing homelessness and offering robust community support is an investment in the well being and stability of both individuals and the community at large. This year MAMH received a grant from the MA Community Health and Healthy Aging funds to launch the Massachusetts Hoarding Resource Network (MHRN) to support housing stabilization, healthy community living, and eviction prevention. This work includes:

- Conducting a landscape analysis to identify system strengths, gaps, and opportunities to build more effective, coordinated models of care;
- Training bilingual facilitators to lead peer support groups in Gateway Cities to expand the capacity of organizations to address cultural and linguistic barriers to care; and
- Education to build self-advocacy across systems by increasing awareness of tenant rights and reasonable accommodations for people with invisible disabilities.

HOUSING BRIEF

MAMH released a working Issue Brief focused on the lack of affordable housing in the Commonwealth for adults living with mental health conditions. The brief, People Are Still Waiting - 2024, includes a discussion of the affordable housing crisis, the most common configurations of housing and types of support services, key players in the development of affordable housing units, and sources of affordable housing funding. The research, analysis, framing, and drafting of this seminal report was made possible by support from the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health.

In each of these areas, the Issue Brief presents the current situation and pending proposals to improve access to affordable housing for people living with serious mental health conditions, as well as MAMH's recommendations. Some of these recommendations would create housing opportunities for a wider group of people – low-income people who need affordable housing – and others would create housing opportunities specifically for people living with mental health conditions. The brief also contains an extensive Appendix describing key Massachusetts and federal programs referenced in the brief, catalogued by type and contextualized.

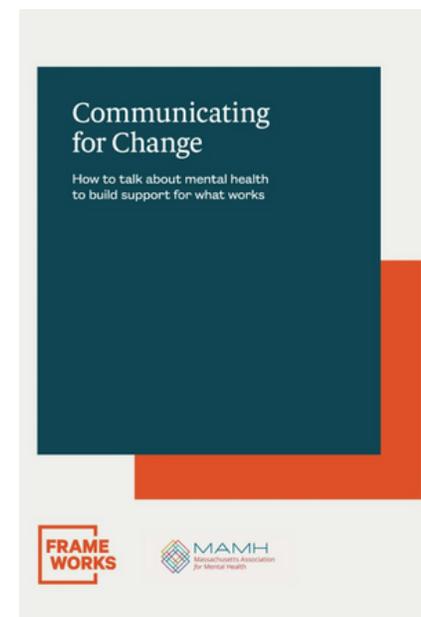

MAMH used the Issue Brief as part of our advocacy, with our housing advocacy partners, in support of the Affordable Homes Act. That act was passed by the Massachusetts Legislature and signed into law by Governor Healey on August 6, 2024.

COMMUNICATING FOR CHANGE

Communicating effectively helps us build and shape support for mental health policies and programs that work. That's why, in partnership with the Frameworks Institute, MAMH is offering training, tools, and resources to help advocates and organizations communicate more effectively to boost knowledge, shift attitudes, and build support for mental health and wellness.

MAMH conducted a pilot Communicating for Change: How to Talk About Mental Health to Build Support for What Works training with members of the Parent/Professional Advocacy League in spring 2024. Feedback was very positive, with most attendees reporting they gained valuable knowledge they'd use in future work and advocacy communications. MAMH is pursuing additional funding to expand outreach and free trainings across the Commonwealth.

The Communicating for Change Toolkit and training is available through MAMH and made possible by generous support from the Helen Ladd Bracket Trust.

CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH

Student Access to Behavioral Health Urgent Care (BHUC)

With funding from Mass General Brigham, the American Endowment Foundation, and the Charles F. and Beatrice D. Adams Charitable Trust, MAMH provided grants to seven Community Behavioral Health Centers (CBHCs) to partner with schools in their service areas to provide key components of Pediatric Behavioral Health Urgent Care to K-12 students. This grant program, known as Facilitating Student Access to Pediatric Behavioral Health Urgent Care, evaluates the hypothesis that partnerships between CBHCs and schools will result in earlier identification of students who are experiencing urgent behavioral health needs; expedited access to high quality, comprehensive behavioral health services; and fewer adverse outcomes such as unnecessary emergency department (ED) visits, 911 calls, suspensions, and chronic absenteeism.

Each grantee team collaborates with one or more schools to provide same-day, on-site assessments for students and to implement key components of pediatric behavioral health urgent care, including referrals for ongoing or out-of-school care, extended hours, and 24/7 access to crisis services, if needed.

To obtain feedback from families about their experience with the school behavioral health urgent care grant program, MAMH and the evaluation team created a brief survey, disseminated in English, Spanish, and Portuguese. The family survey is designed to be a direct measure of the impact of grant-funded services on the family. Almost all families (95%) completing the survey expressed satisfaction with the services they had received, and the majority of families report that the services provided through the grant have been helpful for their children on several measures, including doing better at school, home, and in social situations. The evaluation team continues to analyze service and outcome data related to 911 calls, suspensions, and chronic absenteeism.

Mental Health Education Curricula Review

MAMH initiated a review of K-12 mental health curricula to identify strengths and gaps in meeting the comprehensive mental health education goals established by the MA Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) in its revised Curriculum Framework for PreK-12 Comprehensive Health and Physical Education. MAMH's research was supported by a contract with the MA Department of Mental Health (DMH).

Initial findings indicated that many available curricula address most of DESE's learning standards for mental and emotional health but significant gaps exist, especially with respect to difficult issues like self-harm and suicide. In addition, few available curricula address topics such as knowing when a student or friend may need help with their mental health or where to go to find help. For these topics, additional curricular resources may be needed.

Tele-Behavioral Health Report

While many children and adolescents experience positive mental health, a significant and growing number of youth are experiencing mental health issues that interfere with their academic performance, social development, and well being. At the same time, demand for behavioral health services far outweighs provider availability and contributes to significant access issues for children and families.

MAMH partnered with the Massachusetts Executive Office of Health and Human Services (EOHHS) and the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health (DMH) to examine tele-behavioral health programs operating in school settings to determine their potential to increase access to behavioral health services for middle and high school students and their families. The final report, Tele-Behavioral Health for Middle and High School Students: Best Practices and Policy Considerations for Massachusetts:

- Highlights successful telehealth models that can be adapted to the needs of different communities in the Commonwealth,
- Addresses equity concerns, offering strategies to reduce disparities in access and provide culturally responsive services for underserved groups, including those with limited internet or digital literacy, and
- Highlights policy reforms in reimbursement, licensing, provider credentialing, and access to affordable Wi-Fi to support sustainable tele-behavioral health services in schools and the broader behavioral health system in Massachusetts.

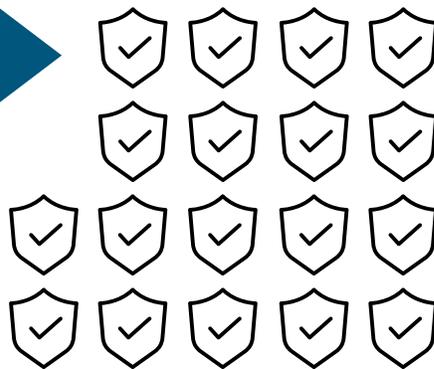

Tele-behavioral health alone is not a solution for all child and adolescent mental health concerns but it can be one option in an array of services available to students. Our vision is that every school district in the Commonwealth provides equal access for all students to comprehensive systems of school-based behavioral health supports.

14 telebehavioral health initiatives researched in Massachusetts and other states as of July 2024

18 policy recommendations for program sustainability dissemination

Peer Empowered Support Groups at Boys and Girls Clubs

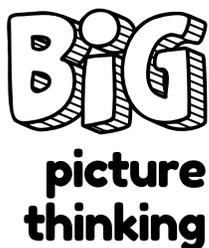

MAMH - with funding from and in partnership with the Mosakowski Family Foundation - is bringing peer-empowered support groups to Boys & Girls Clubs in the Commonwealth, which primarily serve communities of color in economically disadvantaged areas. Peer-empowered support groups can reinforce youth agency, resiliency, and perseverance, facilitating connections with other students by providing a forum for listening and a place of support in a stigma free environment.

Grant awards were made to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Dorchester, Lynn, and Worcester, and programming started in August 2024. Each of the Clubs is leveraging awarded grant funds to build new programs and enhance or expand others while incorporating middle- and high school-aged students to help facilitate the groups.

To understand the impact of the support groups, each Boys & Girls Club will track attendance, administer pre- and post-program surveys, and report on various other evaluation metrics. To further learning and measure success, MAMH is facilitating Learning Community meetings to discuss approaches, challenges, data collection, and outcomes. A review of the programs will be completed, culminating in release of a report at the end of the two-year program.

This initial two-year pilot program reaches the communities of Dorchester, Lynn, and Worcester. However, there are nearly 40 independent Boys & Girls Club organizations operating throughout Massachusetts. Should the pilot yield positive outcomes, youth peer-empowered support groups could be expanded to other Boys & Girls Club sites, and potentially other youth-serving entities, such as YMCAs, Family Resource Centers, Young Adult Access Centers, church and religious groups, and other organizations.

Youth Expressions Contest

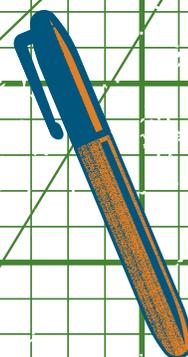

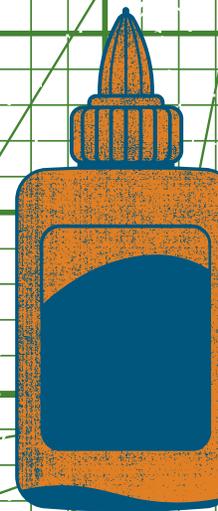

May is Mental Health Month! For five years running, MAMH has partnered with the Massachusetts Health Council for our annual Mental Health Matters: Student Expression Contest. This event is designed to promote wellness and inspire students to explore ways to support their own mental health and support the people around us with simple gestures and expressions of empathy.

SPECIAL EVENTS

MAMH hosts events to raise awareness, foster community engagement, and advance mental health across the Commonwealth. From educational workshops to advocacy initiatives and fundraising opportunities, MAMH provides valuable resources, insights, and opportunities to engage in critical conversations around mental health in Massachusetts. Events in 2024 included:

- A statewide symposium, hosted in partnership with the Association for Behavioral Health, exploring strategies for collaboration between community behavioral health providers and schools to provide timely, effective behavioral health services for students;
- A spin class fundraiser providing a morning of movement and motivation, hosted by youth advocates in partnership with MAMH for May is Mental Health Month;
- Good Neighbor Day activities in Cambridge and Northampton promoting understanding, respect, and friendship across generations hosted in partnership with the MA Coalition to Build Community and End Loneliness; and
- A celebration of former US Congressman Patrick J. Kennedy's new book, Profiles in Mental Health Courage, offering deeply compelling stories about the bravery and resilience of those living with mental health and substance use conditions.

GOAL 3

INCREASE INCLUSION AND ENSURE ACCESS TO EFFECTIVE SERVICES

FROM INNOVATION TO ADOPTION: NoC MA

Network of Care Massachusetts (NoC MA) launched in March 2020 and for three years served as the Commonwealth's singular place where all mental health, substance use, and related social services programs and organizations were curated into a state-wide, user-friendly, searchable tool.

Planning and early implementation for NoC MA was funded by the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Foundation, the MetroWest Health Foundation, and the Charles F. and Beatrice D. Adams Charitable Trust, with MAMH selected as the managing entity. As planned at conception, MAMH developed and operated the online database as a public utility and in anticipation of transitioning the resource to the Commonwealth. In 2024, it became a core element of the state's Roadmap for Behavioral Health Reform, as the data backbone of the Massachusetts Behavioral Health Help Line's (Help Line) new online behavioral health resource directory and search tool, Treatment Connection.

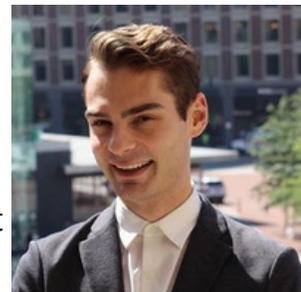

This is a prime example of the public sector adopting the funding and management of a program after the private sector seeded an innovation and demonstrated its effectiveness. MAMH is proud to have collaborated with all partners in making this tool a permanent asset for the Commonwealth. MAMH staff provided training to Help Line call center operators and transferred all assets in the NoC MA directory to the Help Line as part of the construction of Treatment Connection.

MAMH STAFF on the move

Probably the most important asset that transferred from NoC MA to Treatment Connection was staff. In the spring of 2024, MAMH's Program Associate for NoC Kyle Neill left his position at MAMH to become the Project Manager for Treatment Connection at the Help Line. The experience, knowledge, and connections Kyle made at MAMH in operating NoC continue to be leveraged to benefit the Commonwealth.

MAMH ONLINE: COMMUNICATIONS GROWTH IN 2024

MAMH increased our social media presence and engagement, expanding our communications and advancement activities. In 2024, MAMH:

- Increased our total social media following by over 10%, to 4,253 followers.
- Increased our average rate of engagement on social media by 42%, to 8.2%.
- Reached 64% more individuals on social media - a total of 14,666 users - up from 8,955. MAMH accounts also gained 432 new followers.
- Engaged 650 advocates and supporters who collectively sent over 1,340 emails to legislators during the second half of the 2023-2024 legislative session in response to Action Alert communications; and
- Shared research, knowledge, and advocacy updates through videos, podcasts, blogs, and more at MAMH.org.

FRIEND & LEADER AWARD DINNER

MAMH's annual Friend & Leader Award Dinner salutes leaders whose work contributes to progress in awareness, health promotion, prevention, and effective treatment for children and adults affected by mental and behavioral health challenges throughout Massachusetts. This year, we honored the power of partnership and individuals whose work supports mental health and wellness for youth across the Commonwealth.

FRIEND & LEADER AWARD RECIPIENTS

Center for Public Representation and Foley Hoag

The Center for Public Representation was founded in 1976 as a national public interest law firm to pursue social justice and full inclusion in community life for people living with disabilities. As a result of CPR's litigation, tens of thousands of children with special needs receive supports in their homes and home communities; and thousands more people of all ages have left psychiatric, developmental disability, and nursing institutions and now live and receive support in integrated settings in the community.

Foley Hoag is a global law firm with a legacy of commitment, compassion, and community. Foley Hoag is actively engaged in pro bono work, representing underserved communities, advocating for policy change, and supporting initiatives that promote equity and justice. The firm's dedication to pro bono service is an integral part of its mission, demonstrating a commitment to using legal expertise for the public good and making a positive impact beyond their client base.

MAMH also recognized the considerable contributions of several other individuals and institutions. Our Partner in Progress Award recipients included Senator Cynthia Creem, Representative Ruth Balsler, and Representative Kay Khan. Our Special Recognition Award recipients included Dr. Nicholas Covino, President, and Dr. Gemima St. Louis, Vice President for Workforce Initiatives in the Center for Workforce Development and Professor in the Clinical Psychology Department at William James College.
